

A Testimony of our Amazing Developers
by SetVR LLC
as told by one of the partners, Marie Shanahan

Several years ago, three people - my husband, a physician who is a long time friend, and myself - had the very same idea and desire. We wanted to create a virtual reality app that would tell the world about Martial Arts (MA) and the benefits they bring to the human body. All three of us, all blackbelts, have been involved with various forms of MA, for an astonishing total of more than 130 years between us! That being said, here is what happened; in 2020, we started out with another developer team here in the USA. After much too much time, energy, and money, it was plain to see that they were truly not experienced and talented enough to produce a quality app. Therefore, ultimately they were unable to produce an app that was what we wanted and needed. We decided after such a disappointing loss of our resources to find new developers. That led us to Suffescom Solutions and we are happy beyond mere words that we found them!

Ajay and his team have tirelessly worked side by side with us for the past year and to our delight they have produced an app that not only meets our needs, hopes, and dreams, but they did it in under one year. This amazing achievement has allowed us to go on with our project with confidence, and with immense contentment. They listened to us, and made whatever corrections, additions, improvements and upgrades we requested as we went along, and they did so without complaint. Their patience with us has been amazing, and their desire to please us is evident in the incredible end product, which is called SetVR XL Unleashed. As I said, in under a full year, it was ready for market which after our first experience exceeded our hopes and dreams. Even more phenomenal, it was approved by Meta in less than a week - actually I believe it only took about two days. Even Meta recognized true genius when they reviewed our app!

We love the way they show concern by meeting with us via Zoom on a regular basis. Small and even not so small problems are therefore discussed and ironed out, and made right. This makes us feel as if our business is valued by them, and really keeps us going with faith and trust.

We very much like and respect their honesty as well. They have created something that up until now had not existed: a true, real life one-on-one sparring ability via VR. They were upfront with us and told us 'what you want has never been done before, but we will somehow succeed in doing it'. And they did succeed! Not being developers ourselves, it is hard for us to even begin to imagine how difficult and time consuming this was for them. But, they kept at it until they met the challenge.

One of our biggest supporters is a victim of a stroke. Confined to a hospital bed and wheelchair, his life has changed in general for the better because of VR, which we gladly introduced to him. Now that he has our finished product he is beyond ecstatic! He stayed up an entire night playing the game, and said all he wanted to do was to get back to it and play some more. Really, I cannot think of a better testament than his excitement and joy with our app. This alone has met one of our most fervent desires: to be of help to people via the use of physical exercise, and along with that, the furthering of the mastery, expertise, and skillfulness of Martial Arts.

Congratulations to our amazing developer team and many thanks for their time, efforts and desire to want to fulfill our dreams. We realize that they have changed the face of virtual reality and we are proud and thrilled to be the very first app ever to be "one-on-one" do-able.

Would we recommend them to others? Absolutely yes. And we would do so with confidence and pride as well.

We intend to continue on with Suffescom as we come up with new ideas to enrich our app. Already Ajay and team have added an amazing shooting gallery to the app, which is very appealing to sports enthusiasts.

It is exciting to imagine 'what's next', and all three of us know that whatever it may be, our amazing Suffescom developer team will do their best to see that our hopes and dreams are fulfilled.

Attached is a photo of the Disclaimer notice (which we forgot to add) that our amazing team added after the app was published with Meta. This is but one example of how they went that extra distance for us and we are extremely grateful.
